Vogo Investment and others sold majority stake in Tong Yang Life Insurance to Anbang Insurance

Deal ID n° 1633053253
Completed

Editorial

17/02/2015
'Anbang finalises USD 1bn Tong Yang Life stake'

Anbang Insurance is closing in on a deal to buy a controlling interest in Tong Yang Life Insurance for around USD 1.00 billion, marking the Chinese group's first foray into South Korea and a potential gateway to further acquisitions in the country, Reuters reported.

An announcement is expected later today or tomorrow, a person with direct knowledge of the matter told the news provider, asking not to be named as they are not authorised to speak to the media.

Neither Anbang or Tong Yang Life nor its private equity owner Vogo Investment would comment when contacted by Reuters.

The deal will be an all-stock transaction for 57.5 per cent of South Korea's eight-largest life insurer, valuing shares at KRW 17,750 apiece, according to an earlier report by the Korea Economic Daily.

Privately-held Anbang has been expanding its geographical footprint with a number of recent acquisitions, including Belgian lender Delta Lloyd Bank for EUR 219.00 million in December.

Reuters observed that South Korea's financial sector has become more attractive of late, in spite, or possibly because of, fierce competition among local rivals as the market becomes saturated.

Struggling owners have been prepared to sell at cheaper prices than before and major buyers such as Orix of Japan and Taiwan's Yuanta Financial have been quick to take advantage, the news agency said.

Tong Yang Life, which is part of the Tong Yang conglomerate with interests in manufacturing, media and financial services, has around KRW 17,300 billion in mainly domestic assets.

Vogo bought a majority holding in the insurance unit in 2006, three years before the cover provider floated on the country's stock exchange.

In 2010 Reuters reported that the private equity firm was looking to exit its stake in Tong Yang and it was believed General Re, owned by

On the left, a dark sidebar contains navigation icons and labels: 'My Settings', 'Manage your settings', 'My account', 'Financial accounts', 'Corporate structure', 'Display options', 'Exports', 'Alerts', 'Manage your data', and 'Saved Data'. The main content area is titled 'My Orbis M&A' and lists the same categories. A help modal window is open in the center, titled 'How can we help you?' with a language dropdown set to 'English'. It features three tabs: 'Help content' (selected), 'Training program', and 'Other links'. A search bar within the modal contains the text 'Role', with a red arrow pointing to it. Below the search bar, a list of help topics is shown, with 'Role mnemonics: Guide' highlighted in orange and a red arrow pointing to it. Other visible topics include 'Boolean operators: Walk-through', 'Boolean operators: Video', 'Boolean operators: Guide', 'Boolean operators free text: Walk-through', 'Controlling shareholders: Guide', 'Global ultimate identification: Guide', 'Integrated ownership: Guide', and 'About the results: Video'. The footer of the interface shows 'Orbis M&A data', 'Software version: 129.00', and 'Last data update: 25/12/2021 (n° 217005)'.
